HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND CHILDHOOD STUDIES

SEMESTER SYSTEM
CURRICULUM

DEPARTMENT OF HOME SCIENCE
(UNIVERSITY OF DELHI)

FEBRUARY 2010

M. SC. HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND CHILDHOOD STUDIES SCHEME OF EXAMINATION

Semester I

Paper No.	Title of Paper	Credit	M. M	Periods/ week	Duration of examination
	Theory
1101	Statistics & Computer Applications	4	100	4	3 hours
1132	History and Theories of Human Development I	4	100	4	3 hours
1133	Principles of Development 1	4	100	4	3 hours
1134	Diversity, Disadvantage and Inclusion	4	100	4	3 hours
	Practical
1135	Methods in the Study of Human Development and Childhood Studies	4	100	8	6 hours each on two days
	Total		500

Semester II

Paper No.	Title of Paper	Credit	M. M	Periods/ week	Duration of examination
	Theory
1231	Research Methods and Seminar	4	100	4	3 hours
1232	History and Theories of Human Development II	4	100	4	3 hours
1233	Principles of Development II	4	100	4	3 hours
1234	Early Childhood Development: Care and Education	4	100	4	3 hours
	Practical
1235	Early Childhood Development: Care and Education	4	100	8	6 hours each on each two days
	Total		500

Semester III

Paper No.	Title of Paper	Credit	M.M	Periods/Week	Duration of examination
	Theory
1331	Developmental Disabilities	4	100	4	3 hours
1332	Childhood and Adolescence across Ecological Settings	4	100	4	3 hours
1333(a) 1333(b) 1333(c) 1333(d)	Elective: Select any one. a. Women and Society b. Children, Family and Society c. Social Psychology for Human Development d. Literature, Media and Children	4	100	4	3 hours
	Practical
1334	Developmental Disabilities	4	100	9	6 hours each on two days.
1335(a)	Internship	2	50	2
1335(b)	Dissertation	2	-	2
	Total		450

Semester IV

Paper No.	Title of Paper	Credit	M.M	Periods/Week	Duration of examination
	Theory
1431	Education for Human Development	4	100	4	3 hours
1432	Law, Policy and Programmes for Children and Women	4	100	4	3 hours
1433(a) 1433(b) 1433(c) 1433(d)	Elective: Select any one. a. Child and Adolescent Wellbeing b. Social Entrepreneurship for Child Development c. Modernization and Social Change d. Evaluation Studies	4	100	4	3 hours
	Practical
1434	Organization and Management of Programmes for Children and Families	4	100	9	6 hours each on two days.
1435	Dissertation	4	150	4
	Total		550
	Grand Total		2000

NOTE:

- Pass Percentages: Minimum marks required to pass the examination is 40% in each course, in theory and practical separately. However, the candidate must secure an overall aggregate of 50%.
- The marks obtained in the House Examination of M.Sc.(I) will be taken into account for the final allotment of the specialization/ elective subjects of M.Sc.(II). The concerned Institute will have the discretion to offer one or more elective subjects in a particular academic session (subject to the availability of logistic support).
- As per the University directive 25% of the maximum marks of each theory course will be assigned for internal assessment.
- The Practical Examinations shall be conducted over 2 days, 6 hours each day. 40 % of the marks for the practical examination shall be reserved for fieldwork and/or laboratory records of the candidates and will be awarded by the teacher responsible for the course.
- Seminar, placement reports and projects of individual papers will be evaluated by a panel of teachers internally and the marks will be sent to the University through the Head of the Department.
- The Dissertation work in III and IV Semester will be marked at the end of Semester IV for 150.
- Each Theory paper will have 1 period Tutorial per week.

DETAILED COURSES

STATISTICS AND COMPUTER APPLICATIONS

THEORY

Paper No.: 1101
Maximum Marks: 100
Teaching periods: 4/ week
Teaching load: 50

OBJECTIVES

- To learn basic statistical procedures for research
- To understand applications of statistical techniques for analysis and interpretation
- To use selective software for qualitative and quantitative data analysis

CONTENTS

PERIODS

PART I – Statistics

UNIT 1: Introduction to statistics	5
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Orientation to qualitative and quantitative analyses• Introduction to quantitative procedures• Basic principles and concepts in statistics
UNIT 11: Measurement and computation	5
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Fundamentals of measurement: quantity and quality• Scales of measurement: Nominal, ordinal, interval and ratio• Reliability, validity and standardization of measurement
UNIT 111: Organization and presentation of data	5
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Data reduction strategies• Coding and tabulation• Grouping of data: Frequency distributions• Graphic representation: Graphs, diagrams and charts• Descriptive statistics and its applications• Applications of descriptive statistics• Characteristics of distributions: Skewness, kurtosis• Percentage, percentile ranking and frequencies
UNIT 1V – Probability and normal distribution	5

- Basic principles and applications of probability
- Testing hypotheses: Levels of significance and estimation
- Errors in hypothesis testing: Type I, Type II
- Sampling theory and method
- Z scores, calculation and application

UNIT V – Statistical tests 10

- Parametric tests of difference: T test, ANOVA and post hoc analysis of significance
- Parametric tests of association: Pearson’s product moment R
- Non-parametric tests of difference: Mann-Whitney, Sign, Median, and Kruskal-Wallis
- Non-parametric tests of association: Spearman’s R
- Chi-square test

UNIT VI – Regression and prediction 4

- Regression equation
- Applications of regression

UNIT VII – Analysis and interpretation 6

- Guidelines for selecting an appropriate test
- From scores to conclusions

UNIT VIII – Computer Applications Software 10

- EXCEL
- SPSS
- Atlas.ti

HISTORY AND THEORIES OF HUMAN DEVELOPMENT - I

THEORY

Paper No.: 1132
Maximum Marks: 100
Teaching periods: 4/ week
Teaching load: 48periods/ semester

OBJECTIVES

1. To learn about the history of the study of human development
2. To comprehend the cultural notions of children and childhood
3. To focus on Indian history and tradition in the exploration of human behaviour and development
4. To provide a framework to locate human development and childhood in an interdisciplinary context

CONTENTS

PERIODS

UNIT 1 – History of the study of human development	13
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Brief overview of the history of human society• Earliest known references to the study of human beings• European renaissance and philosophy• Modernity and science: The influence on the study of man
UNIT II - Theory construction	10
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• What is a theory?• Deductive and inductive approaches in theory construction• Links between phenomena, theory and method• Purpose of theorising
UNIT III – Ethnotheories, indigenous theories and academic theories	15
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The process and politics of theory construction: Scientific and lay knowledge• Western scientific theories and their links with philosophical and religious thought• Indigenous and universal theories of human development• Ethnotheories
UNIT IV – Interdisciplinary theoretical perspectives	10
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Cross-theory learning in human development• Cross-disciplinary approaches to human development• Sociological, anthropological, psycho-biological and philosophical studies on childhood and human development

PRINCIPLES OF DEVELOPMENT 1

THEORY

Paper No.: 1133
Maximum Marks: 100
Teaching periods: 4/week
Teaching load: 48 periods/semester

OBJECTIVES

1. To gain advanced knowledge of developmental processes and principles
2. To understand the importance of biological bases in human development
3. To explore contemporary concerns in the study of development

CONTENTS

PERIODS

UNIT 1: Introduction to concepts and processes	16
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Basic assumption for the study of development: Differentiation-integration, irreversible time • Salient dimensions of study: Normality-variation, rigidity-plasticity, continuity-discontinuity, competence-performance, critical periods and sex differences • Life trajectories: Pathways, ruptures and repairs in development, and developmental tasks • Study of life span: Prenatal, early childhood, middle childhood, adolescence, adulthood and old age
UNIT 11: Biological bases of development	12
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Physiological processes • The human genome • Genetic influences in different stages • Structure of nervous system and brain

UNIT 11:Developmental processes across the life-span 10

- Genetics and behavior
- Epigenesis and the linkages between physiological, psychological and social
- Brain and behaviour
- Physiological processes and behaviour

UNIT 1V :Interactional processes in development 10

- Nature and nurture interplay
- Interrelatedness between domains of development
- Cultural organization of human development
- Integration of development across the life-span

DIVERSITY, DISADVANTAGE AND INCLUSION

THEORY

Paper No.: 1134
Maximum Marks: 100
Teaching periods: 4/week
Teaching load: 48 periods/semester

OBJECTIVES

1. To engage with the diversity and plurality of childhood in India
2. To gain knowledge of the status of children in India
3. To critically analyze the concerns related to specific groups
4. To understand the processes and principles of 'rights based programming'

CONTENTS	PERIODS
Unit I: Diversity	10
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Situational analysis of children and childhood in India • Human Development Indices (HDI) • Identity and personhood
Unit II: Disadvantage and its implications	16

METHODS FOR THE STUDY OF HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND CHILDHOOD STUDIES

PRACTICAL

Paper Number	:	1135
Maximum Marks	:	100
Practical	:	2/wk (4-5 periods/ practical)
Practical Load	:	24 practical /semester

OBJECTIVES

1. To acquire a repertoire of skills for working with children and relevant adults in different contexts
2. To develop techniques and methods suited to different and various situations and contexts
3. To study selected standardized tests/protocols for the study including assessment of individuals, families/settings
4. To develop skills in recording fieldwork

CONTENTS

PRACTICALS

UNIT I: Overview of the procedures for study of children using specific and multiple methods of fieldwork

2

- Observational study of children and their life settings using ethnographic methods
- Interviewing of children and relevant adults
- Focus group discussions/PLA (Participatory Learning Approach) techniques
- Theatre based techniques/method/activities
- Archival and secondary resources of data gathering

UNIT II Single and mixed methods

4

- Use and development of observational checklists/guides/ anthropometric measurements to study development across the major domains
- Experimental methods
- Case study of individuals with a focus on life stages
- Devise/assemble a suite of methods for study of salient issues/domains of development and life stages

UNIT III Study of settings

4

- Visits to various settings such as families in different circumstances, residential community care and education, and hospitals and clinics

UNIT IV Study tests, assessment protocols and developmental norms 2

- Developmental: Portage, Bayley Scales of Infant Development (BSID)
- Tests of cognition, language and behaviour
- Norms of development

SEMESTER II

RESEARCH METHODS AND SEMINAR

THEORY

Paper No.: 1231
Maximum Marks: 100
Teaching periods: 4/week
Teaching load: 48 periods/semester

OBJECTIVES

1. To understand the purpose and procedure of research
2. To understand the varied approaches to research
3. To learn the basic format of a research design and process
4. To learn how to write research proposals and develop presentation skills

CONTENTS

PERIODS

UNIT I: Purpose of research

6

- Basic need for research in the social sciences
- Scientific method; induction and deduction
- Issues of relevance and cultural appropriateness
- Social responsibility and ethics in research

- UNIT II: Quantitative and qualitative research paradigms 12
- Quantitative and qualitative research designs
 - Design, data collection and analyses in quantitative and qualitative research
 - Selecting appropriate design and methods to conduct research
- UNIT III: Components of research 18
- Defining the research area: developing research questions, the approach and design
 - Reading, reviewing and referencing studies, journals, books and papers
 - Developing the objectives, methods of study, analyses
 - Writing a research proposal
- UNIT IV: Seminar 12
- Preparation of seminar and presentation

HISTORY AND THEORIES OF HUMAN DEVELOPMENT - II

THEORY

Paper No.: 1232
Maximum Marks: 100
Teaching periods: 4/ week
Teaching load: 48 periods/ semester

OBJECTIVES

1. To reflect on the historical and philosophical traditions and theories of development

2. To appreciate the task of knowledge construction with reference to human development and childhood studies
3. To learn about the different theories of development
4. To develop skills for critical appraisal and construction of theories of development

CONTENTS	PERIODS
UNIT 1 - Philosophical approaches to the study of human beings	10
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Changing orientations to human development and childhood • Traditional and religious understanding of human development • Selected thinkers and themes • Early approaches to studying human behaviour
UNIT 11 – Theories of development	14
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Theories that emphasise biological factors in development: Evolutionary theory, Psychosexual theory, Cognitive developmental theory • Theories that emphasise environmental factors in development: Learning theories, Social-role theory, Life-course theory • Theories that emphasise the interaction of person and environment in development: Psychosocial theory, Dynamic systems theory, Constructionist theories
UNIT III – Emerging eclectic interdisciplinary trends	10
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Plurality and multiple perspectives • Positivism, determinism and interactionism • Universal and indigenous theories • Metatheoretical issues in the study of human development • Linkages with different disciplinary theoretical paradigms and methods of study
UNIT IV – Critical appraisal of theories	14
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evaluating a theory for cultural and universal application • Selecting theories as explanatory devices for phenomena • Theorising as an activity • Theoretical bases for intervention approaches • How to use a theory

THEORY

Paper No.: 1234
Maximum Marks: 100
Teaching periods: 4/ week
Teaching load: 48periods/ semester

OBJECTIVES

1. To study the contemporary emergence and positioning of Early Childhood Care and Education (ECCE)
2. To provide theoretical and analytical framework for effective implementation and assessment of early childhood development programmes
3. To acquire local and global knowledge about approaches, methods and programmes fostering optimal growth of young children
4. To study the principles of pedagogy and curricular framework in Early Childhood development (ECD) programmes

CONTENTS

PERIODS

UNIT 1: Emergence of early childhood development programmes

6

- Global and Indian history, trends and achievements in ECCE
- Significance of ECCE as an economic investment in the future
- Core concepts, principles, rationale and policy for ECCE
- Current research and projected trends

UNIT II: Theoretical perspectives and development during ECCE

12

- Early childhood development theories and socio-cultural influences
- Developing child and domains of growth
- Approaches and issues in providing community based, centre based or institutional services
- Essential skills and competencies for childcare professionals

UNIT 111: Development, learning and curriculum design 18

- Diverse contexts, plurality, inclusive practices and community collaboration
- Stimulation, creativity and affective communication in care giving practices
- An integrated pedagogy and principles for curricular framework in ECCE
- Play, development and learning in ECCE

UNIT IV: Assessment, supervision and evaluation of ECD projects 12

- Analytical framework and resources for effective programme implementation
- Tools for individual and group assessment and evaluation of ECCE settings
- Documenting and maintaining records as source of knowledge base for ECD
- Capacity building and partnership with parents and community

EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT: CARE AND EDUCATION

PRACTICAL

Paper No.: 1235
Maximum Marks: 100
Practicals: 2/week (4-5 periods /practical)
Teaching load: 24 practicals/semester

OBJECTIVES

- 1 To explore community orientations towards familial and non-familial early childhood care and education
- 2 To understand ways to address socio-cultural diversity through local and global methods and practices

- 3 To study the principles of pedagogy and curricular framework for optimal growth through ECD programmes
- 4 To learn strategies for effective capacity building, implementation and assessment of early childhood development programmes

CONTENT

UNIT I: Care practices in communities

- Profiles of patterns and practices in the care of infants and babies in families
- Through appropriate methods, notes and field records understand adult child interactions
- Explore toys, objects and clothing that constitute children's worlds

UNIT II: Care in institutional settings

- Institutional facilities, rhythms and processes
- Building skills to assess quality of programmes with sensitivity to ecological contexts
- Recording individual children's language, intellectual, and emotional social skills
- Adult child interactions to facilitate expression, communication and curiosity
- Health, nutrition and wellbeing

UNIT III: Curricular content, design, processes and methods

- Curricular needs and everyday skills in the classroom; Story Telling , discussions, projects
- Planning spaces and identifying materials for play and joyful learning
- Organizing activities and resources for curricular goals
- Ways to track and record children's progress and communicate with parents

UNIT IV: Children, Community and the State, and ECCE

- Understanding state interventions such as Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS), meal services and health advocacy
- Community notions and acceptance of state programmes
- Status of children in state projects
- Developing tools, play materials and classroom display
