PRESS RELEASE

OneDU Flagship Programme

Online teaching and learning has become an integral part of education worldwide owing to the unprecedented pandemic situation. University of Delhi also adopted online teaching and learning in the last semester, whereby students were taught through various online platforms.

The University has decided to augment and streamline online education by facilitating e-learning support through the Delhi University Computer Centre (DUCC) by creating an integrated online platform and networking resources and facilities for use by all the university departments, centres, colleges and other affiliated bodies under 'OneDU' Online eDUcation flagship programmes. The aims of OneDU are to:

1. Promote online education across teaching departments, centers, colleges and other affiliated bodies.
2. Facilitate support structures at various levels to augment online education.
3. Integrate and unify online teaching activities on one platform with the help of DUCC.
4. Enhance capacity of the stakeholders to facilitate better utilization of online teaching applications.
5. Generate and disseminate e-resources, wherever required. In order to actualize these objectives, a OneDU Apex Committee has been constituted at the University level with representation from the teaching and non-teaching community to liaison with the departments, centers, colleges and DUCC.
