Sub: Approval for software apps on Digital / Smart teaching Method especially developed for the students of UG courses with Linguistics.

Dear Sir,

This is to inform you that Prof. (Dr.) Chander Sekhar Singh, Department of Linguistics, Rajdhani College, has developed two mobile applications based on digital/smart teaching methodologies to support undergraduate teaching and learning in Linguistics.

The details of the applications are as follows:

1. CSS Speech Analyzer

Speech sound analysis is an integral component of the syllabi of Semester II, IV, VI and VIII as well as various GE and SEC courses offered under the B.A. Programme with Linguistics. The CSS Speech Analyzer is designed to facilitate the study and analysis of speech sounds. It will be useful for students of Linguistics, Psycholinguistics, and researchers working in the field of language disorders. The application will be especially beneficial for students who do not have access to laptops due to financial constraints, as it enables them to perform speech analysis using their mobile devices.
