INTRODUCTION

OBJECTIVE

The Right to Information Act is an Act to provide for setting out the practical regime of right to information for citizens to secure access to information under the control of Public Authorities, in order to promote transparency and accountability in the working of every Public Authority.

In consonance with the spirit of the Act, the University has been actively disclosing information pertaining to all the arenas of its functioning for the information of its stakeholders, which interalia include the employees, its students, alumni and prospective students and employees.

IMPLEMENTATION OF RTI ACT IN UNIVERSITY

University is the first Public Authority to have initiated the process of publishing crucial information pertaining to its financial estimates, accounts and proceedings of its statutory bodies on its website. This data was made public in 2009 itself when this Act was in its nascent stage of growth.

Today, most of the services and facilities available to its students, employees and prospective students and prospective employees have been made available through the website of the University. These services and facilities can be accessed by click of a button by the stakeholders.

Despite, its enormity and the fact that the University of Delhi is not only a leading Central University but a path setter for other Public Authorities, the implementation of the RTI Act has been carried out over almost a decade and a half in a very efficient manner. The mechanism for seeking information as Section 6(1) of the RTI Act is explained in the next Section.

It is to the credit of the efficient functioning of the Act in the University and willingness of the University, as a Public Authority, to share the information held by it in terms of Section 2(j) of the RTI Act that despite receiving more than 5000 applications annually, the number of Original Applications escalating into First Appeals is only 12-15% of the total number of Original Applications registered with the University. Further, the volume of First Appeal escalating into Second Appeals heard by the Hon'ble Central Information Commission is around 1.5% of the Original Applications registered with the University. Out of this meagre number of Second Appeals, most of the matters are decided in favour of the University.

The Annual Report of the Hon'ble Central Information Commission also indicates that the Original Applications received in the University are highest as compared to other Central Universities. This volume is almost equivalent to the Original Applications filed under the RTI Act in Ministries of Central Government.

The data given above clearly brings out the healthy state of affairs that the efficient and effective implementation of the RTI Act has inculcated into the University system.

PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL

Performance Appraisal is based on the concept of Annual Performance Appraisal Report as applicable to the Government organization. Under the scheme, the incumbent officers submit their Annual Performance Report.

The report is reviewed by the Reporting and Reviewing Officer and suitable grades are given. Based on the grades, future promotions are granted.

Besides annual appraisal, the incumbents are monitored and mentored by the officers in a routine manner to improve their performance and the system at large.
