PAINTING SPECIALIZATION

OBJECTIVE

The Curriculum is planned to further enhance the skills of the student while encouraging personal growth based on research in various styles of painting and the related technology. Building upon previous course work in creative working, student will develop a concept for a body of work. Abstraction, mixing of medium, stylization, using reality as basis of design based painting, employing form, distortion and simplification will be encouraged. The relevance of the scale of assessment will be considered on the basis of several studies. Final critiques and class discussions to develop individual artistic vocabulary and approach will be encouraged.

SEMESTER - I (PREVIOUS YEAR)

OBJECTIVE

This 2 years Post Graduation course is crafted with a research-oriented approach to expand ones outlook on Sculpting. It involves exposure to a wide array of resources, media, techniques and theories, encompassing both internal and external perspectives within the realms of art and Sculpture. The emphasis lies on analyzing and incorporating diverse philosophical, historical, and contemporary viewpoints in the understanding and execution of the students. The course aims to contextualize individual artistic practices, bridging them with external knowledge and seamlessly integrating this wealth of insights into studio methodologies.

The overarching objective is to elevate students' skills, foster creativity, and facilitate personal growth through research and methodology encompassing various styles and visual approaches within the realm of sculpture.

PRACTICAL SUBJECTS

1. DRAWING

06 Weeks-150 Hours-150 Marks

Life Drawing and Creative Drawing: The subject involves a thorough and comprehensive exploration of male and female life models, coupled with the practice of creative drawing techniques. Students engage in a detailed study of the human form, utilizing life models to deepen their understanding of anatomical nuances, proportions, and the dynamic interplay of light and shadow. The emphasis extends beyond mere representation, encouraging students to infuse their drawings with creative elements that capture the essence and individuality of the models.

2. CHOICE OF ANY ONE OF THE FOLLOWING THREE

09 Weeks-225 Hours-200 Marks

a) PORTRAITURE: The subject comprises of study in different sizes from live models of different age groups (male & female). This advanced study delves into the intricacies of capturing the essence and form of individuals at different life stages, providing students with a comprehensive understanding of sculpting from direct observation, artistic interpretation, and technical enlargement processes. The emphasis is on honing skills in portraying human figures authentically and adapting them from different sources, contributing to a well-rounded proficiency in sculpture.

OR

b) CREATIVE SCULPTURE: The course encompasses the creation of compositions, whether abstract or inspired by pertinent subjects. These compositions are underpinned by thorough preparatory studies and techniques designed to cultivate and enhance individual creative expression. The focus is on guiding students through the process of translating conceptual ideas into tangible artistic forms. This involves exploring abstract concepts as well as drawing inspiration from relevant subjects and the environment, providing a rich and diverse foundation for creative exploration. The incorporation of preparatory studies and techniques serves to empower students in the development of their distinctive artistic voices, fostering a strong foundation for original and expressive artistic endeavours.

(At least one work done during the academic year should be in conventional medium such as metal casting, stone or wood for submission.)

c) MURAL: The course involves the conceptualization and realization of sculptural murals in relief, focusing on the desired subject. To support these projects, students are required to create meticulous drawings, scale models, and various preparatory studies. The emphasis is on a comprehensive approach that encompasses both the planning and execution phases of the artistic process.
